TOLLS FIGHT IS WAXING BITTER

Divided Democrats Widen Breach as Debate Proceeded in House Today

KNOWLAND SEES VICTORY FOR G. O. P. IN ELECTIONS

Little Doubt that Wilson Will Win Hands Down in Vote on Free Tolls Repeal

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Representative Knowland of California, predicted today that the Republican party will regain control of Congress as a result of the split among the Democrats over the Sims repeal resolution. He said:

"The ranks of the opposition are badly shattered. This will mean a big advantage to the Republicans in the November elections. It is too bad that political capital has to be based on a proposition like the canal tolls, but it affects every American regardless of party. The solidarity of the Democratic party vanished when the President split with some of the brainiest leaders of the party. Solidarity is impossible when the President advocates an un-American policy."

MEASURE FIGHTS BITTERLY

Supporters of the Sims repeal resolution are confident of victory in the House. The opposition, however, is fighting bitterly. The split in the ranks of the Democrats threatened to widen as the bitterness increased. The twenty-hour debate is expected to end on Tuesday afternoon. The proponents of the repeal of the canal tolls predict a majority of between 50 and 60 in the final vote.

Vote May Come on Monday

An all-day fight proceeded before the House of Representatives today on the President's canal repeal policy. The speakers are growing more bitter as the fight progresses. A vote is expected on Monday or Tuesday. Representative Harrison praised Speaker Clark's stand against President Wilson, saying: "If the repeal is adopted I believe it will mark the beginning of the disruption of the Democratic party."

Stevens of Minnesota declared he was willing to follow the Democratic president "for the glory of the country." He was roundly applauded. Representative Stevens warned the house: "Those who howl loudly for patriotism and demand that we do as we please with our own, forget the nation's history. For a century we have insisted upon equal treatment without discrimination for our citizens. Now it is proposed to repudiate our promises and reverse history."

FLOOD CONDITION IN NEW YORK STATE

Hudson is Rising—Merchants Move Goods—Rains Take Bridge Out

ALBANY, N. Y., March 28.—The Hudson River is rising rapidly today as a result of the warm weather of the last few days, which melted the snows. A steady rainfall has also aggravated conditions. Merchants along the Hudson are moving their goods as the river has assumed flood proportions. Part of the bridge spanning the Mohawk River at Amsterdam has been carried out. From Schenectady come reports that the Mohawk River is out of its banks and inundating a part of the city.

Many Towns Suffering

BUFFALO, March 28.—Northwestern New York is in a critical condition today from floods resulting from two days of continuous rain. Boats are being used in the streets of Painted Post, Olean and Corning. Heavy damage is reported at Batavia, Lockport, Tonawanda, Pendleton and other points.

BOY LOSES LIFE IN HIGH WATER AT BRADFORD, PA.

BRADFORD, Pa., March 28.—Scores of families living in the low-lying districts here have been driven from their homes by the high water resulting from a thirteen-foot rise in the Conewago river. Samuel Grant, aged 14, lost his life in the flood.

Senator Chamberlain is After Ambassador Page

Senator George W. Chamberlain of Oregon, who has been pushing Ambassador Page for an explanation of his London speech in connection with the Panama Canal, has come forth as a powerful advocate of American individualism. In a speech at the silver jubilee of the Phi Kappa Psi, this is what he had to say about the relations of the United States with the rest of the world:

"I want peace which will be peace with honor to the United States. I am opposed to any peace which seeks to annex us to any other country. Never will I stand for any peace which will make us a United States of America and Great Britain."

"I would rather die in a conquered country than live as a member of a country servile to any other power. If the spirit that exists today had existed in the days gone by we would never have had a Boston Tea Party or a Declaration of Independence."

"I stand for those principles which made Americans and for that independence which made possible the Declaration of Independence."

Young Wilson was taken to the home of Mrs. M. Melchert on Seventeenth street where Dr. Robertson, who was called, found that no bones were broken. Although severely bruised, the boy sustained no serious injuries.

SANTA ANA HAS ASQUITH RISKS LOWER PHONE TOLLS

New Rates Based on Two-Minute Talks Went Into Effect March 21

CONVERSATION EXPENSE IS GREATLY LOWERED

Old and New Long Distance Rates Between This City and Other Points Compared

New long-distance telephone rates, based on the State Railroad Commission's downward revision, went into effect Saturday, March 21, all over the state. Santa Ana has secured material reductions. The general reduction is 21 per cent and the talking unit of time is changed from one to two minutes. The total saving to the telephone users annually is estimated by the commission as $26,000. The change in the time minimum is held to be a benefit to the talking public, as the commission found from exhaustive data that the average length of a long-distance conversation is 1.89 minutes. The basis of charge is one-half a cent for each air line mile for two minutes, with a 50 per cent increase for each additional minute or fraction. The state is divided into zones for fixing the rates, the first zone being within a distance of 14 miles, and the zones being measured regularly every seven miles thereafter up to 200 miles, when the width of the zone is widened to 25 miles.

Formerly 15 per cent of the business of city exchanges was credited to local calls and the rest to long-distance. By order of the commission 30 per cent of such business hereafter must be credited to local switches. As an example of the reduction the rate for a two-minute conversation between Los Angeles and San Francisco was lowered from $2.50 to $1.80.

Santa Ana people may now hold two-minute conversations with towns in the 14-mile radius as follows: Fullerton, ten cents, formerly fifteen cents; Huntington Beach, ten, formerly fifteen cents; Newport, ten, formerly fifteen cents for one minute; Anaheim, ten, formerly fifteen cents.

Other adjustment of rates between Santa Ana and other Southern California points, all on the two-minute basis: San Diego, 40, was 50 cents for one minute; Los Angeles, 20, was 20 cents for three minutes; Long Beach, 15, was 45 cents for three minutes; Riverside, 20, was 20 cents for one minute; Corona, 15, was 25 cents for one minute; Redlands, 25, was 20 cents for one minute; Pasadena, 20, was 25 cents for three minutes.

How the Register's Big Special Edition Keeps up the Good Work

Commercial Agent Frank Smith of the Santa Fe recently sent his brother, Geo. A. Smith of Corcoran, Calif., a copy of the Orange County Quarter-Centennial Edition of the Register. Geo. A. Smith is a big dairyman, stockman and realty operator.

We are permitted to quote from a letter from Geo. A. Smith to his brother Frank, under date of March 23, as follows: "Corcoran, Cal., March 23, 1914. "Dear Brother Frank:—Yours received. Glad to hear from you. I also received the fine magazine of Orange county published by one of your newspapers. I must say that it is the finest I ever saw. The publisher is certainly a booster of the highest class. He is to be complimented. I want a dozen more copies, no matter what they cost. Please get them for me if possible and send me the bill. I want them right away. Do not wait, as they will soon all be gone." Frank Smith says his brother George is going East soon and believes in boosting for all parts of California—hence his desire for copies of the Register's big special edition."

REPORT FILED TODAY MANSUR CUTS CLAIM OF BANK OVER $3500

In a report filed with the county clerk today, F. W. Mansur, special deputy of the state building and loan commissioner appointed to settle up the affairs of the Orange County Mutual Building & Loan Association, wrecked by N. A. Ulin, states that he has rejected a part of the claim of the First National Bank of Santa Ana. The claim of the bank as put in was $17,573.27. Mansur cut the claim to $3,516.

Mansur's report includes a list of claims allowed by him: Sixty-six were presented to him, one was reduced, three were rejected and sixty-two were allowed as presented to him. Mansur's decision is not final. There is no reason why the bank cannot proceed in court to have its claim allowed for the full amount. The aggregate of claims, not including the bank's, as allowed is $47,078.92. With the bank's claim, the total is $50,594.89. There is no report of assets yet filed, but they will not total over $9,000.

Mansur cut the bank's claim on the ground that the directors of the association never authorized the present note of $17,000 held by the bank. The books show a resolution authorizing the president and secretary to borrow $14,000 for the association. On March 9, 1911, a new note was made, it being for $17,000, and the old note of $14,000 was cancelled. The increased amount of the note was never taken through a directors' meeting. Ulin having put the raise through without the knowledge of the directors. Mansur took the view that the association is not liable for that extra $3,000 nor for interest upon it since March 9, 1911. The reduction altogether is $3,516.

Mansur rejected three claims, that of Mrs. C. B. Cavins for $24; of Frank O. Calkins, $23; Mrs. E. M. Crandall, $7. It is understood that these claims were for a maturity fee, a fee of $1 a share paid at the time stock was issued supposed to be paid back when the stock matured. Mansur takes the view that the fee is not returnable in these instances because the stock never matured.

Of the sixty-two claims allowed as presented, one, that of the Worden Printing Company, was on a commercial bill against the association. All others were for either paid-up or installment stock. The small sums are mostly for installment stock.

The claims allowed follow: Worden Printing Company, $12.50; E. S. Wallace, $9.80; H. C. Galloupe, $5,000; Mary H. Galloway, $1,000; Ida Jensen, $400; Elizabeth B. Allen, $2,200; Frank O. Calkins, $216.97; Alexander Struthers, $2,800; Jane Murdy, $2,000; Mina V. Butcher, $3,400; Lucy B. Harlan, $2,200; Abbie J. Ulin, $78.09; C. C. Lambert, $800; Virginia E. Wilfong, $38.32; Cleora Whitney, $2.64; Harry G. Whitney, $3.66; Mrs. G. B. Whitney, $6,900; M. P. Westcott, $650; Mrs. Della Martin, $25.98; Jackson Belletier, $2,000; Emma M. Hill, $1,230; Emma J. Forgy, $500; Harry Baade, $404.20; Thomas H. Sherrill, $11.74; Allen J. Lawton, $500; C. T. Johnson, $200; Mrs. Anna T. Crandall, $200; Helen H. Whitney, $200; Blanche S. Forgy, trustee, $42.82; Blanche S. Forgy, $354.36; Charles F. Ball, $100; Andrew C. Getty, $179.80; D. G. McClay, $49.14; John D. Ball, $100; Dexter R. Ball, $100; Louisa M. Parker, $300; Arvilla Ball, $100; K. A. Rutherford, $128.32; Mitchell Brown estate, $1,000; M. J. Hoffman, $430.33; E. M. Crandall, $98.39; Mrs. Edna A. Cummins, $1,400; Neal U. Brock, $1,500; C. D. Ball, $827.71; W. C. Bryant, $100; Mrs. C. E. Brock, $2,000; Elma Nogel, $1,100; Minnie McCord, $77.67; Julia Stebbins, $100; Ethel Alderman, $786.70; Ida M. Lambert, $1,020.51; J. A. Preston, $63.57; Mrs. Eugenia M. Crandall, $220.76; John A. McFadden, $77.74; Margaret Culver, $74.98; J. C. Lamb, $115.84; W. C. Roberts, $77; Nellie L. Lewis, $30.38; J. E. Bunker, $515.78; J. B. Nichols, $21.22. Total, $47,078.92.

Nothing has been done toward securing a compromise settlement of the affairs of the association further than that State Commissioner Walker has suggested a line of compromise that he thinks ought to be acceptable. He thought the directors ought to put $2,000 on the line to pay the bank and allow the shareholders fifty cents on the dollar.

Should the bank's claim be settled at $14,000 and the shareholders be allowed fifty cents on the dollar, the directors would have to dig up $37,500. So far, however, no agreement of any kind has been reached to indicate how much, if any, the directors are willing to offer for a compromise settlement.

BLOOD RUNS IN TORREON STREETS

Villa's Men Force Way Into City—Frightful Carnage as Fight for City Wages

HUNDREDS DEAD, PILED HIGH—EPIDEMIC FEARED

Midnight Attack on Tampico Begun—2500 Conscripts Hurried to Torreon

GOMEZ PALACIO, March 28. (4 a. m.)—The federal garrison at Torreon was still fighting at this hour, and the rebels were inside of the city. Torreon's streets were running red with blood and a murderous fire from the house-tops was poured upon General Villa's men. A constant crashing of barricaded windows and doors could be heard as the constitutionalists forced their way into the houses to get at those firing from the roofs. Villa was forced to stop his artillery fire last night because of the danger of killing his own men. Much of the city is in flames, which furnished light for the bloody struggle. The streets had been strongly barricaded and the rebels were forced to cut their way through whole blocks of adobe houses to avoid these obstructions.

Of the federals, it is known that Generals Ricardo, Pena, Frederico Reyna and at least 800 men were killed, while Generals Eduardo Carranza and Andres Almanzan, two of General Velasco's chief lieutenants, were fatally wounded. Villa lost none of his leading officers, though General Trinidad Rodriguez was badly wounded. Villa estimates his dead at 350.

The bombardment of Torreon has been incessant since last Sunday. The federals have been unable to bury their dead. Early in the week an attempt was made to burn them, but for the past three days they lay where they fell. The weather is hot, and with the streets sprinkled with the bodies of human beings and horses, it is feared that an epidemic will come.

Fighting Begins at Tampico

HICKORY SWITCH CALLED BEST CIGARETTE CURE

CHICAGO, March 28.—Miss Lucy Page Gaston, Joan of Arc in the battle against cigarettes, must first convince mothers that her "moonswabbing" treatment will cure their young hopefuls before juvenile court will order all young cigarette users to have their mouths washed with a nitrate of silver solution. Judge Pinckney, to whom Miss Gaston appealed for a court order ordering juvenile delinquents to be thus baptised, said today that if he had a boy who smoked cigarettes he would experiment with the solution but didn't want to force it on the youngsters without their mothers' approval. "I put it up to one mother," said the court, "and she said she preferred the hickory switch solution."

RAINFALL IS 13.22 INCHES

The benefit to the county and to Southern California of this amount of rain is of inestimable value. Bumper crops of beans, beets, barley and other products are assured. For the storm of March 27-28, the rainfall amounted to .74, .34 having fallen on the first date and .40 last night. It is predicted that the present storm is not yet over.

C.'s in real estate values and conditions at Orange for over 27 years, and now present for the consideration of those looking for a location, either for a delightful Home, or a Ranch that will prove a paying investment, the best and surest bargains that we have ever been able to present before. "Of all sad words of tongue or pen the saddest are these: 'I might have made that $5000 which Mr. Foresight made on the ranch he just sold. I was offered the ranch at $20,000, but was afraid to buy. He bought it eight months ago, and sold it yesterday at $25,000.'" Here are a few just as good:

"A"—10 acres, close in, frostless, all Valencias, about $4000 income past year. A real bargain at $24,000, only one-fourth cash.

While loafing around in Orange county for the past six months looking for a better bargain, or for a place where I can put in some exchange—some eight or ten real bargains have been sold out from under my nose! Think I will now wake up, get in the swim, and prepare for 1915." If you don't want what you've got, trade it for what you want and don't get.

"Home, Sweet Home," Orange, Cal., March 28th, 1914.
Dear Sir:—Don't you think that wife of yours is entitled to preside over a modern up-to-date home for the remainder of her life? She sees the comforts and modern conveniences in the beautiful cozy homes of her lady friends. She is not a grumbler and may not complain at all to you, but do you know that the earnest longing for a nice new home sometimes brings a little twinge of heartache to her. You are busy and have so many other things to think about that maybe you have not realized the fact. Now see us about one of these bargains. Own your own home, pay all cash if you want to do so. Buying on payments you take $10 to $25 out of one of your pockets and place it in another of your pockets, and go on smiling, and then do you know that the chickens and vegetables you raise in your own back yard taste a little better and cause you to swell out a little more—with pride—than do those you buy of the best grocer or Chinaman in the world? Your wife and family know that "our own home roses" are sweeter and more fragrant, that the sunshine and the world in general is brighter and that work and cares are lighter in one's own "Home, Sweet Home."

THE MANGO: ITS POSSIBILITIES IN CALIFORNIA.

The Mango has been termed the King of Tropical Fruits and where it is largely grown is the most valued of fruits. It has been cultivated in India from time immemorial, in which country, by centuries of selection, it has reached its greatest perfection.

Writing in the National Geographical Magazine Mr. David Fairchild, in charge of the agricultural explorations of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, says of the mango in this country:

"The mango is one of the really great fruits of the world. India, with its hundreds of millions of people, has for centuries held it sacred, and celebrates annual ceremonies in its honor. The great Mogul Akbar, who reigned in the sixteenth century, planted the famous Lak Bag, an orchard of a hundred thousand mangos, and some of these still remain alive. It is a fruit the importance of which Americans are at last beginning to recognize, notwithstanding the unfortunate discredit which some of the worthless seedling mangos of Mexico and the West Indies have given it in the minds of Americans generally.

"There are probably more varieties of mangos than there are of peaches. I have heard of one collection of five hundred different sorts in India. There are exquisitely flavored varieties no larger than a plum, and there are delicious sorts the fruits of which are six pounds in weight. In India, where the wage of a coolie is not over ten cents a day, there are varieties which sell for $6.00 a hundred and the commonest sorts bring over a cent apiece.

"The great mango trees of India are said to reach a height of seventy feet, and are so loaded down with fruit that over $150 worth has been sold from a single tree.

"These fine varieties, practically as free from fibre as a freestone peach, can be eaten with a spoon as easily as a cantaloupe. Trainloads of these are shipped from the mango-growing centers of India and distributed in the densely populated cities of that great semi-tropic empire; and yet, notwithstanding the great importance of this fruit, the agricultural study of it from the new standpoint has scarcely begun. I believe that it has never, for example, been tested on any but its own roots."

Prof. C. V. Piper, agricultural explorer of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, writes as follows of the mango in the Government Botanical Gardens, Saharanpur, India:

"Saharanpur is only a short distance from the Himalayan foothills, and the mercury commonly goes down to about 29 degrees in the winter. It is on this account that both tropical and temperate trees can be grown here successfully. It is quite strange to see cherries, plums, pears and even apples growing alongside mangos, dates, guavas, etc. In a general way it is comparable to Chile, California, so far as temperature is concerned, possibly a little hotter in the summer, and hardly as cool in the winter. Judging from this place, why won't mangos do well in California?"

With regard to the methods largely used in India for ripening it, A. C. Hartless, superintendent of the Botanical Gardens at Saharanpur, India, says:

"As regards the conditions under which the mango ripens its fruit, undoubtedly a high temperature is necessary, and moreover a dry one is preferred. The fruits ripen here from May to July and thus have the hottest time of the year in which to ripen. Generally there is during May a hot, dry wind that no doubt acts on the acids of the fruit.

"It is a common practice here to ripen the fruit artificially. This is done to save the expense of watching and protecting from predatory birds and animals. When the fruits attain the desired size they are taken off and packed in straw in closed boxes where they will ripen. In this way the taste may differ slightly from those ripened on the tree, but it is not uncommon for fruits on the same tree to differ materially in taste."

The same method of picking and ripening is reported from Java, where, it is claimed, that even though hard and flavorless when picked, the artificial ripening renders them tender and full flavored in a few days.

The amount of frost which the mango tree will stand is unquestionably largely a question of variety and the climatic conditions under which it has been produced. Woodward, in his "The Mango; Its Culture and Varieties," gives the experience in India as follows:

"A few degrees of frost for a short time may destroy the leaves and young branches, and an occasional blizzard giving 10 degrees Fahrenheit below freezing point may destroy branches as thick as the forearm, but on such trees being pruned off the trees are little worse for the low temperature."

It is generally conceded by authorities that the mango flourishes best where ample summer heat is present during the ripening of the fruit; while many varieties will stand a considerable degree of frost. It also does well under irrigation. Higgins ("The Mango in Hawaii"—Hawaii Experiment Station Bulletin 12) says:

"The mango is better suited to an irrigated region than to one of natural rainfall, because of the bad effect of rain at flowering time, and indeed throughout the life of the trees where the mango blight is known; and further, because it is a distinct advantage to be able to apply water when it is most needed and withhold it when it would do harm."

Past experiments with the mango in California have been largely confined to the coast regions—at Hollywood, Sherman, Santa Barbara, near Santa Ana and Sierra Madre; and although most of the trees planted have been of poor variety they have demonstrated the fact that it will flourish under California conditions. The oldest known tree was planted, from seed obtained in Guatemala, a little over thirty years ago; the greatest success in production of mature fruit has been obtained at Sierra Madre, where the summers are hotter than in any of the other locations.

The future of the mango in California rests on the production of varieties adapted to California conditions, and everything points to its successful commercial production in the interior citrus districts of the state as soon as such kinds have been thoroughly tested out.

The cultivation of the mango is receiving quite a good deal of attention in Florida, and plantings of considerable size have been made. The U. S. Department of Agriculture has already started work along the line of trying out those varieties which give promise of proving best adapted to our climatic conditions, and further work along these lines by the individual fruit grower would seem to be more than warranted by the results already obtained in the limited number of instances where the mango has been planted in California.

From the fact that the mango shows so much promise in Florida it is also more than probable that varieties will be found which will fruit well in the coastal regions of California, as well as in the hotter and drier interior valleys of the state.

It is undoubtedly one of the fruits well worth the attention of the California fruit grower, and there are without question large areas in the thermal belt well adapted to its culture.

NO SPECIFIC CURE
FOR TUBERCULOSIS

National Association and United States
Public Health Service Denounce
Fakes—Will Start Crusade of Suppression

In spite of the statements of a number of individuals who have recently claimed that they have found a "cure" for consumption, The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, the highest authority on this disease in America, in a bulletin just published, declares there is no information at hand to justify the belief that any specific cure for tuberculosis has been discovered which deserves the confidence of the medical profession and the people.

Backing up these statements, the United States Public Health Service declares that outside of the three essentials in the treatment of consumption, namely rest, fresh air, and good food, "there is no drug known, however rare or expensive it may be, that has any curative action in this disease, and all remedies advertised as such are to be avoided. Patent cough medicines are harmful; radium, X-rays or electricity in any of its forms have no specific value in tuberculosis of the lungs. No serum has yet been found that will cure it, and there is no plaster or poultice which has an effect on the disease itself."

The National Association is planning in the near future to institute an extensive campaign for the suppression of the numerous fake consumption cures, which are annually cheating the public of the United States out of no less than $15,000,000 and besides are depriving numerous victims of the chance for a real cure. Consumptives who are taking remedies of this character will be warned through advertisements against the danger of such procedure.

Any person desiring information with regard to consumption cures or the treatment of tuberculosis may obtain literature and advice from the office of The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, 105 East Twenty-second street, New York City.

Buffalo Bill and the Circus are Coming Here

Every once in a while Colonel William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill), who is to appear here Tuesday, April 7, with the combination of the Sells-Floto Circus and Buffalo Bill (himself), tells a story. And usually that story, in addition to being funny, is on himself. Such is the case—but here's the yarn.

"Ask any one of these Indians with the show, and he'll tell you that he has a great respect for the United States regular soldier," said Col. Cody recently. "However, I found out once that there's a difference between the respect for the regular and for the militia man."

"It was during the War of the Mesquias, of which moving pictures recently were made. I had been a scout in the Dakotas, but when I came back to Pine Ridge I occupied the position of brigadier general of the Nebraska militia. Naturally, I had on plenty of uniform, and the first Indian who saw me became interested."

"You big general now, Pahaska?" he asked, and my chest rose with the compliment.

"Yep," I said, "I'm a big general."

"Oh, bigger than that. Heep, heep big general."

"Heep big general—like Bear Coat (General Miles)?"

"Yep, heep big general, like Bear Coat."

"Heep big general reg'lar army?"

"No, heep big general, militia. Mish, you know; mish."

"And when I said that sentence, the Indian looked at me again, curled his lip and wiggled his fingers at his nose."

"Heep big shucks!" he said, and walked away."

And now as the man in the side-show would say, passing on from these few remarks, there comes the information that Colonel Cody, America's best beloved citizen, will lead the great parade of the Sells-Floto-Buffalo Bill combination as a special honor to this city, when it comes here April 7. In the performance he will present an entirely new spectacle, entitled "Warpath," which will present the progress of civilization from the frontier times to the present day. And the price for the whole performance remains the same as it was in former years, 25 cents, with seats for 14,000 persons.

The quantity and quality of oranges and lemons produced on a property in any of the citrus districts of Southern California and the cost of production are the conditions which necessarily determine the market value of these properties. It has been proven beyond a doubt that ideal conditions for growing lemons and Valencia oranges, (the two great profit producers of the citrus family), are to be found on the foothill slopes of Southern California, from 10 to 30 miles from the ocean where the broken trade winds will temper the climate in both winter and summer and where the comparative elevation and foothill protection is such as to assure a sufficient air drainage to eliminate the probability of damaging frosts and excessive winds. In addition, the soil must be deep and rich and the water conditions the best.

The North Whittier Heights subdivision which we are offering on the market in planted and unplanted tracts of 5, 10, 15, and 20 acres, has all of these conditions essential for success which accounts for the fact that some of the most successful orchardists and nurserymen in Southern California are investing in the property.

If you are contemplating an investment in a citrus property in Southern California, that is also an ideal location for a suburban home, we shall be pleased to furnish you with full information and descriptive folder of this choice subdivision. Call, phone or write.

AN EXPERIMENT WITH TUBERCULOSIS

The problems presented by the widespread existence of tuberculosis in dairy cattle are manifold. They bear on human experience in connection with the hygiene of the milk supply, which is assuredly a matter of no small concern to all classes of society. The question of tuberculosis in cattle involves the economics of agriculture to a far greater degree than the uninitiated can appreciate; for the disease has manifested itself so widely that the hope of complete eradication must be deferred for a long time, to say the least. Furthermore, the outcome of the management of tuberculosis herds may point the way for advantageous applications in the field of human treatment or prevention.

In view of the enormous practical difficulties in the way of the complete eradication of tuberculosis in cattle by the wholesale slaughter of all animals known to be infected with tuberculosis, schemes for utilizing the latter have been devised. The most prominent of these is the system whereby tuberculous cows are isolated and used for breeding purposes, the calves being removed from the mothers at the earliest moment and brought up without further exposure to the disease. This has been rendered possible by the finding that such young are regularly born in perfect health, and entirely free from tuberculosis. The affected breeding cattle in this way do not become an entire economic loss. A ten-year investigation, carefully verified and supervised by government officials, has just been reported by Brooks in connection with what is probably one of the most valuable herds of Holstein-Friesian cattle in the world.

The object was to produce a herd of Holstein cattle free from tuberculosis taint and yet endowed with all the most valuable strain-characteristics possessed by this breed. Animals were selected because of their desirability, entirely independent of the presence or absence of tuberculosis. The tuberculous animals greatly outnumbered the non-tuberculous. Three hundred tuberculous animals were studied. The existence of tuberculosis was determined by the administration of tuberculin, repeated in non-reacting animals three times at intervals of six months. All animals reacting to either test were removed at once to the tuberculous farm so that there was no possibility of the transmission of infection from the tuberculous group to the healthy one. At birth the calves are immediately taken from the mother. Feedings are on pasteurized milk collected indiscriminately from sound and tuberculous animals.

Of more than two hundred calves born of the tuberculous herd, not one has become tuberculous, although all have been tested three times by massive doses of tuberculin. These animals are rather more resistant to tuberculosis than animals born of non-tuberculous parents. No falling off in type, in milk production or fertility is present in these calves, no increase in death-rate exists among them as compared with the offspring of healthy cattle, no falling off in value takes place, and several of the most valuable cows and bulls in the world are of this ancestry. These facts, says The Journal of the American Medical Association, remain constant even where at least three generations of known tuberculous parentage exist.

PREFERENTIAL CANAL TOLLS

Contributed to the "Register" by E. E. Keech

The commercial bodies of this coast are interested and active in the matter of the proposed repeal by Congress of the preferential tolls given to American coastwise trade through the Panama Canal.

There is a very laudable and proper sentiment prevalent, that America should run her own affairs, and that American ships should be favored wherever practicable. But there seems to be almost an entire absence from the press of any statement, or even discussion, of the real grounds of objection to the repeal, which, I understand, are as follows:

1. The United States by specific and solemn treaty obligations with England, has agreed:

"The canal shall be free and open to the vessels of commerce and of war of all nations on terms of entire equality, so that there shall be no discrimination against any nation or its citizens or subjects in respect to the conditions or charges of traffic or otherwise."

2. This nation must uphold the Monroe Doctrine and maintain its leadership of the entire western hemisphere. But the plain violation of our treaty obligations by these discriminating toll charges has shaken, if not destroyed, the confidence and alienated the sympathy of every other civilized power in the world. So that, instead of being left free to pilot the progress of civilization and liberty on this account, we will be combined against, hedged in and possibly thwarted in our purpose, unless we promptly retrace our mistaken steps in violation of our solemn treaty obligations.

The great masses of our citizens are fair and honest and desire to know and do what is right in this matter. I have been asked by a number for information on the subject, and it has been suggested it be given through the press.

In 1850 the United States had just acquired California, completing its conquering march across the continent until it lay with two great ocean coasts, looking toward Europe on the east and Asia on the west. It needed a ship canal through the isthmus to connect these widely separated coasts.

By the treaty of 1846 with New Granada (now Colombia), we had rights under which we might be able to cross the isthmus of Panama. But at that time, and until 1850, the United States considered that route impracticable, and desired and expected to secure a canal either along the Nicaragua route or by way of the isthmus of Tehuantepec in Mexico. At that time, 1850, Great Britain held practically all of North America to the north of us, with extended and important coast lines upon both oceans. She also had in the Caribbean Sea Bermuda, the Bahamas, Jamaica, Trinidad, the Windward Islands, the Leeward Islands, British Guiana, British Honduras and a protectorate over the Mosquito Coast, through which the Nicaragua route lay. We had nothing except our supposed valueless concessions from Granada. The Nicaragua route was considered the only practicable and desirable route.

Under these conditions the United States earnestly sought and gladly secured from Great Britain the Clayton-Bulwer Treaty, the eighth article of which provided:

"The Governments of the United States and Great Britain having not only desired, in entering into this convention, to accomplish a particular object, but also to establish a general principle, they hereby agree to extend their protection, by treaty stipulation, to any other practicable communications, whether by canal or railway, across the isthmus which connects North and South America, and especially to the interoceanic communications, should the same prove to be practicable, whether by canal or railway, which are now proposed to be established by the way of Tehuantepec or Panama. In granting, however, their joint protection to any such canal or railways as are by this article specified, it is always understood that the canal shall be free and open to the vessels of commerce and of war of all nations on terms of entire equality, so that there shall be no discrimination against any nation or its citizens or subjects in respect to the conditions or charges of traffic, or otherwise."

While "The Last Resort" did reasonably well, it did not come up to the $6000 mark and Frazee exercised his option.

John Bunney, than whose face no physiognomy is known to more people all over the world, has insured himself against beauty. Bunney's face is his fortune, all right, but not in the usual sense of that phrase. Bunney is as ugly as the proverbial mud fence and he is proud of it. He jealously safeguards his homeliness, because he knows that it is the thing that makes him the highest priced moving picture actor in the business. His insurance against beauty followed a casual conversation with a friend in one of the Broadway restaurants in which he was told he was getting handsomer.

by the United States and Great Britain that the parties constructing or owning the same shall impose no other charges or conditions of traffic thereupon than the aforesaid Governments shall approve of as just and equitable; and that the same canal or railways, being open to the citizens and subjects of the United States and Great Britain on equal terms, shall also be open on like terms to the citizens and subjects of every other state which is willing to grant thereto such protection as the United States and Great Britain engage to afford."

In 1879 Count de Lesseps, having just successfully completed the Suez canal, secured organization, under French law, of the Universal Inter-oceanic Canal Company, a concession from Colombia, and undertook the construction of a sea level canal across the isthmus of Panama. But the unhealthfulness of the climate and the difficulties of the work were so great that by 1890 $245,000,000 had been expended, the French company had been bankrupted, de Lesseps had died in disgrace and the project had been practically abandoned.

Meanwhile, the United States had been constantly agitating and working for the canal across the isthmus, several commissions having surveyed and reported upon the Nicaragua and other routes. By a final commission, presided over by Admiral Walker, under the instructions of Congress, extensive and thorough examinations, surveys and estimates were made of both the Nicaragua and Panama routes, and an elaborate report presented to Congress at the close of the last century.

The Congress and people of the United States became convinced that a canal could be built, and should be built, owned and operated by the United States alone. But the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, with its provisions for joint control with Great Britain, stood in the way. For the purpose of removing the obstacle, we again sought and secured a treaty from Great Britain, known as the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, which was ratified in 1901. It expressly provided for the preservation of the provisions of Article 8 of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, above quoted; also that the canal might be:

"Constructed under the auspices of the Government of the United States, either directly at its own cost or by gift or loan of money to individuals, corporations or through subscription to or purchase of stock or shares."

Also that, subject to the provisions of that treaty, the United States "Should have and enjoy all the rights incident to such construction, as well as the exclusive right of providing for the regulation and management of the canal."

This treaty also provided that the United States adopt, as the basis of the neutralization of the canal, certain rules, substantially as embodied in the treaty for the free navigation of the Suez Canal, the first of which was:

"First. The canal shall be free and open to the vessels of commerce and of war of all nations on terms of entire equality, so that there shall be no discrimination against any nation or its citizens or subjects in respect to the conditions or charges of traffic, or otherwise."

While the treaty was before the United States senate for approval, Senator Bard of California moved the following amendment to this rule:

"The United States reserves the right, in the regulation and management of the canal, to discriminate in respect of the charges of traffic in favor of vessels of its own citizens engaged in a coastwise trade."

The senate rejected the amendment and ratified the treaty.

The foregoing facts are stated without discussion or argument, so that all of your readers may be left free to determine whether the United States can honorably or fairly discriminate in the matter of tolls in favor of their own coastwise trade. In another article, I will take up the second reason for the repeal of the discriminatory tolls.

DRAMA ABROAD AND AT HOME

By Beau Rialto

NEW YORK, March 2.—One of the weeks pronounced successes was Edward Peble's new musical farce, "A Pair of Sixes," produced by H. H. Frazee at the Longacre Theater. The piece, which received a prolonged road try-out on the Atlantic coast, came to Broadway with its success assured. The action of the comedy is based on the Potash & Perlmutter-esque quarrels of two young men, partners in the Eureka Digestive Pill Company.

Broadway managers have found that economy in the production of a new play is a poor policy. This season, in particular, has demonstrated that the only way to put a play across is to engage for it the very best cast obtainable. After a play has had a successful run, it may be carried on by actors of minor reputations, but for the premiere it has become necessary to have a very nearly all-star cast to insure success. A. H. Woods admitted this when he got together one of the strongest companies Broadway ever saw to put on "The Yellow Ticket" at the Eltinge. Frazee followed the same precept in "A Pair of Sixes." In the company are Hale Hamilton, Ann Murdock, Ivy Troutman, George Parsons, George Howard, Geraldine Beckwith and many others of the same calibre.

Of necessity, the installation of "A Pair of Sixes" in the Longacre Theater necessitated moving "The Last Resort." George Scarborough's thrilling melodramatic attack on the judiciary, out of the playhouse, after a run of three weeks. Scarborough, who made his bow as a playwright-producer when he put on "The Last Resort," says that the piece will be placed in another Broadway theater immediately. Scarborough's arrangement with Frazee, lessee of the Longacre, was that his piece was to run as long as he desired, if it did $6000 worth of business the first week. Otherwise its stay in the Longacre was to be at the option of Frazee.

NAVAL CELEBRATION AT WILMINGTON, APRIL 11

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Everything that can get up steam in the shape of a vessel of war, anywhere near Los Angeles, will be sent to take part in the celebration at Wilmington on April 11. Secretary of the Navy Daniels gave this assurance yesterday to Congressman Stephens. Through the Los Angeles representative in the House the Chamber of Commerce asked the Navy Department to take official notice of the Wilmington celebration and send such submarines, torpedo boats and other craft as it might be possible to assign for that duty.

The Secretary not only assented but said that the armored cruiser Cleveland, which is now outfitting at Mare Island, to be sent south with a crew of 600 men, would be diverted, if possible, to make Wilmington by the 11th.

"Everything now goes to indicate that we shall have a naval demonstration which will be well worth going many miles to see," said Congressman Stephens this evening.

MAN RICHER THAN ROCKEFELLER NEAR DEATH IN PASADENA

PASADENA, Cal., March 28.—Frederick Weyerhaeuser, the "lumber king," said to be a richer man than John D. Rockefeller, lies at the point of death here today. Information from private sources indicate that he is not expected to live through today. The physicians would neither confirm or deny the reports. Frederick Weyerhaeuser, Jr., is expected to arrive from St. Paul tonight. All the other members of the family are already here.

HIGH RENT PROBLEM IS SOLVED IN SERBIA

BELGRADE, Serbia, March 28.—Serbia is confident it has just successfully solved the problem of soaring rents. Following the two recent Balkan wars in which Serbia doubled its territory at the expense of Turkey and Bulgaria, there was an influx of population into Belgrade that caused rents to go up to an all but prohibitive point. A new law by parliament went into effect today doubling the taxes on all unoccupied houses and apartments which it is confidently believed will cause landlords at least to think twice before refusing a tenant who cannot pay as much as the landlord would like.

RAILROAD MEN IN HEARING BEFORE COMMISSION TODAY

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Testimony from railroad men on the question of freight storage at terminals, and loading and unloading freight, was taken today by the Interstate Commerce Commission. This was part of the commission's inquiry into the subject of free service of carriers to their shippers, and on its conclusions will rest some of the body's decision as to the requested five per cent advance in rates in eastern territory. Oral arguments on the "spotting" service are looked for March 30 and 31.

DURST IS REFUSED NEW PROBE OF HOP RANCH SANITATION

SACRAMENTO, March 28.—Ralph Durst, owner of a large hop ranch near Wheatland, where a riot of pickers was held last August, has been refused a new investigation of sanitary conditions by Governor Johnson. The conditions of the Durst ranch were scored by Dr. Carleton Parker, secretary of the State Immigration Committee. Durst disputed Parker's findings and the governor gave him a chance to present his case yesterday afternoon in the presence of Parker. At the conclusion the governor informed Durst he was satisfied with Parker's report and would not order a new investigation.

SCHOOL FOR SUFFRAGE IS OPENED AT DAYTON

DAYTON, March 28.—Ohio suffragettes today opened a school for suffragette speakers here. The school is in charge of Miss Ethel R. Vorce of Cleveland, and many students are enrolled. How to carry the argument of suffrage to the people in the coming campaign in this state is the object of the school. One of the first speakers' principles of the course is admonition against unladylike tactics. The militant methods are strictly tabooed.

Doings In Social and Club Circles

AN "OLD TYME" PARTY

Ladies Gowned in Days of Long Gone Time Were Guests of Mrs. C. F. Crose

Gowned in the fashion of years ago and with her beautiful white hair done in the style of the same period—the time when hoop skirts were in vogue—Mrs. C. F. Crose yesterday afternoon received guests at an "old tyme party" given by her at the handsome Crose home on Cypress avenue. In the quaint costume, which included the hoop skirt, Mrs. Crose presented a most attractive appearance and was overwhelmed with deserved compliments. In her invitations, Mrs. Crose requested her guests to either bring or wear "something old," and as they responded unanimously, many quaint and really beautiful costumes were seen. The skirts of the dresses were full, and each lady looked pretty and graceful in her old time costume.

Old fashioned flowers were used in the effective house decorations to which the finishing touch of beauty was given by the lovely wisteria used to drape the archways between the rooms, and in other available places. The shades were drawn and candles were lighted and in the soft illumination the scene was delightfully picturesque and engaging. A spectator might have imagined that time had been turned back to the halcyon days "before the war."

Exceedingly interesting were the relics of earlier days that were grouped on the library table. There were books to be seen that dated back to 1833, pewter sugar bowls and pitchers, old fashioned tiddies, ancient pictures, and so on through an exciting array of long ago curios. Carrying the idea of "old lang syne" into the table appointments, Mrs. Crose had spread her dining table with home-spun table cloths, and used dear old fashioned dishes in the appointments. As the ladies in their fetching attire tripped to their places at the table, when the delectable refreshments were served, each was given a nosegay of old-fashioned flowers by dainty little Miss Ninette Rowland, granddaughter of the hostess.

During the afternoon each guest was given a patchwork piece, or rather the material for it, to be put together in a stated time and in as

THE CLINGING VINE

She used to rise at break of day
And make hot cakes for me,
And all day long about her work

Was happy as could be,
Those happy days went quickly
by

When joy and peace were mine,
With a wife so very dear to me,
A gentle, clinging vine.

I always knew when I came home
I'd find her at her post,
A nice warm meal prepared for me,

Of which a king might boast.
And to my friends I'd often say:
When they came out to dine:
I hope your wife like mine will be

A gentle clinging vine.

But now, alas, how times have changed!

And 'tis with grief I note
That women are in politics
And even like to vote;

And I no longer rule alone—
At which I once did shine;
My wife has ideas of her own;
I've lost my clinging vine.

She even has the nerve to say
That I must do my share
In bringing up our boys and girls.

Who once were her sole care,
Bad habits I must put away,
What comforts can be mine?
Oh, bitter day that stole away
My gentle clinging vine.

afternoon was a musical program beau-her talented sister-in-law, Mrs. W. H.

entire afternoon was a most charm-the clever inspiration that had led to so delightful a result.

GAY POSTPONED PARTY

Event Planned for Saint Patrick's Day, Duly Came Off Last Evening

Over seventy invitations were issued by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Abbott for a gayly successful evening at their charming El Modena home last night. The event was planned some time ago, during the seasons made gay by the dominance of St. Patrick, but was unavoidably postponed. However, the St. Patrick's motif was cherished in mind and appeared in the decorations last evening. Snuff and Cherokee roses were used lavishly, the chandeliers, mantels and piano being adorned with the greenery, and the roses used effectively wherever possible. The cosy home was fairly radiant with the pretty decorations.

A merry game announced as "St. Patrick" was played progressively and its progress was marked by jest and laughter. J. G. Morrow was the successful aspirant for first prize in the jolly games and Jasper Osborn had to be content with the trophy given for the "hooby" score.

The evening was made further enjoyable by a well rendered reading given by Miss Virgil Potts, and a sweetly sung vocal number from Mrs. Nat Neff. Following the music and the awarding of prizes, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by her sister, Miss Clara Wells. One of the very pretty features of the affair was the welcome accorded each of the guests by little Miss Helen Stearns, a cousin of the hostess. The charming small girl was dressed to represent a shamrock leaf, and most cunning was her appearance.

The trip to the Abbott home at El Modena was made by automobile, the cars appearing from all directions in the earlier part of the evening. Every one fortunate enough to be there had a feeling of being more than repaid for braving the threatening and rainy elements of the weather.

For Her Birthday
Miss Inez Crane was the central figure in a pretty dinner given at the Crane home on East Second street last evening in honor of her birthday. Dinner was served in five courses at 6 o'clock, and the table was daintily appointed. Red roses clustered in a cut-glass vase occupied the table's center, and a beautifully ornamented birthday cake was the chief attraction of the tempting feast. A feature of the dinner was the tiny cakes at each place that were decorated with the birthday date. Covers were laid for eight, a trio of friends outside of the family circle enjoying the family hospitality of this auspicious occasion.

Mrs. Stroch's guests included Messdames Fred Rowland, O. H. Egge, H. S. Kittle, W. L. Delmiling, L. L. Whitson, Will Flood, Mrs. Lloyd Messler of Anaheim, Mrs. Roy Forsyth of Los Angeles, Mrs. Schuyler.

SCANTY CLOTHING SHOCKS QUEEN ELIZABETH

BRUSSELS, March 28.—So shocked was Queen Elizabeth at the scantiness of attire worn by a number of women at the last court ball that she has persuaded King Albert to appoint an official dress censor. This functionary, one of the court chamberlains, to be appointed, has been instructed to stand at the door at all future court entertainments and refuse admission to any woman whose décolleté is too deep or the split of whose skirt is too high. Several of the gowns complained of by her majesty were slit to the knee, while the corsets were extravagantly scant as well as flimsy.

Mrs. Nell Wilson and her daughters started this morning for Arena, Wisconsin, their former home. Mrs. Wilson and daughters have been here for the past two years and a half, coming here for Mrs. Wilson's health, which has greatly improved. She will dispose of her property in the East as soon as possible and return to California for permanent residence.

Miss Janet Phyllis is in Los Angeles today and will probably remain over till tomorrow evening.

Miss Roxie J. Adams, who has been visiting in Southern California for the past eight months, has accepted a position as teacher, the offer of the place being wired to her, the school being located south of Little Rock, Ark. MISS TYLER FINALLY LOSES POSTOFFICE JOB

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Miss Mattie R. Tyler, granddaughter of former President Tyler, who appealed personally to White House officials yesterday to continue her as postmistress at the Little town of Courtland, Va., will be succeeded by B. A. Williams, it was announced last night by First Assistant Postmaster-General Roper.

Failure on the part of Miss Tyler to take the recently ordered civil service examination, rather than alleged efforts of a "clique of Washington politicians," was the department's explanation of its action.

GIRL FOUND DEAD

NEAR POLAND, N. Y.
—PUPIL SUSPECTED

LITTLE FALLS, N. Y., March 28.—Lydia Beecher, aged 21, a school teacher, was found murdered today in a clump of bushes near Poland.

She left her boarding place last night to mail a letter. A youth named Gianni was seen conversing with her. It is believed she was murdered on the highway and dragged into the bushes. Her body was frightfully cut and there were several stab wounds about her head and face. Miss Beecher recently expelled Gianni from school. He swore he would get even.

LA TOURAINE HALTED 4 DAYS BY BAD BOILERS

NEW YORK, March 28.—The steamer La Touraine came into port last night from Havre more than four days late. Trouble with her boilers had caused the delay. A force of repair men was constantly employed during the voyage to keep enough boilers in condition to supply steam.

The vessel's tardiness had caused some uneasiness until Capt. Causin reported by wireless that he had encountered heavy seas and was proceeding slowly with deranged machinery.

This is La Touraine's last voyage to New York, agents of the French line announced yesterday. She is to be transferred to the company's service to Havre and the West Indies.

AMUSEMENTS

Burke's Big Uncle Tom's Cabin Co.
As a play, "Uncle Tom's Cabin" has never been equalled by any other dramatized story in fidelity of detail, clearness of outline and strict adherence to the story. In this day of dramatized novels turned out by thousands on the strength of their book sales, a few are successes, and it is a pleasure to enjoy a standard success that has withstood time and triumphed over the fads of the hour as has Burke's Big "Uncle Tom's Cabin" Company. This great play presented by the largest company in America, will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House, Saturday, March 28, Matinee and Night.

In Cincinnati in three weeks this production was attended by 69,000 people, with constantly increasing interest. Those who have viewed it in Santa Ana pronounce it the best and most wonderful production ever witnessed. The first section is being shown daily except Sunday at the College of Music at 3 and 8 p. m., until Thursday. It is free to all, and is highly educational.

At the Lyric
"The Man Between" is a very masterful play that swings right into the question, and it features J. Warren Kerrigan, the most popular screen artist in the world, according to the million of votes cast for him in a contest just held.

A picture is as good as a sermon if it is the right kind. Here is a play on the result of environment, good or bad fortune and opportunity. Because a father was a criminal does not mean that the offspring will be.

It is a play for old and young to see. The play has a splendid setting, a wealth of detail and a supporting cast of the finest actors.

"The Flash in the Dark," featuring Dorothy Davenport and Wallace Reid, and a screamer of a comedy, entitled "Almost a White Horse," go to make up a splendid bill.

SIXTEEN HOSE TAKEN IN LAST FEW WEEKS

A few days ago Constable C. E. Jackson came into possession of a 50-foot hose that was hidden in a hedge by two Mexicans. The Mexicans got away, and a neighbor turned the hose over to Jackson. Jackson put a statement in the Register to the effect that he would like to locate the owner of the hose. He has found him. The owner is C. C. Schultz of 1603 Grand avenue.

"There were sixteen different people who called up about that hose," said Jackson, "so there must have been fully sixteen hoses stolen around here recently."

With a large attendance of friends, the last rites for Mrs. Amanda F. Carlyle, whose death took place on Tuesday, March 24, were held Thursday afternoon at 2 p. m. from Smith & Tutill's chapel. Exquisite floral offerings were the silent but convincing evidence of the esteem in which Mrs. Carlyle was held by a large circle of friends.

The services were conducted by Rev. Paul E. Wright and two sweet old hymns, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" and "Some Sweet Day," were sung by Mrs. F. M. Gist and Miss La Rue Phipps, Miss May Scholes accompanying them.

Those who bore the casket, the last service they could render the beloved mother, were the sons and son-in-law of the deceased, Messrs. George, John and Frank Carlyle and J. W. Patterson. Interment was made in Fairhaven cemetery.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

On the produce market and exchange, there were no real features during the day. The demand for products was a little better than normal, but not sufficient to create price changes. Butter hung steady with report of a rise of 1/2 cent in the northern market, making the quotation there also 23 cents a pound for creamy extra. Receipts of this product were 28,265 pounds. Eggs arrivals were 620 cases. This was only local stock and about the same number of cases were reported in from the north.

A Message To Women

Those of Middle Age Especially.

When you have found no remedy for the horrors that oppress you during change of life, when through the long hours of the day it seems as though your back would break, when your head aches constantly, you are nervous, depressed and suffer from those dreadful bearing down pains, don't forget that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the safest and surest remedy, and has carried hundreds of women safely through this critical period.

Read what these three women say:

From Mrs. Hornung, Buffalo, N. Y.

BUFFALO, N. Y.—"I am writing to let you know how much your medicine has done for me. I failed terribly during the last winter and summer and every one remarked about my appearance. I suffered from a female trouble and always had pains in my back, no appetite and at times was very weak.

"I was visiting at a friend's house one day and she thought I needed Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and have gained eight pounds, have a good appetite and am feeling better every day.
Everybody is asking me what I am doing and I recommend Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. You may publish this letter if you wish and I hope others who have the same complaint will see it and get health from your medicine as I did."—Mrs. A. HORNUNG, 91
Stanton St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Was A Blessing To This Woman.

SANTA ANA Y. M. C. A. SAYS FAREWELL TO ONE COUNTY SECRETARY, WELCOMES NEW

E. M. Brown, Who Takes R. J. Hamilton's Place, Makes Good Impression

R. J. HAMILTON

Saying farewell to R. J. Hamilton, the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. last night welcomed E. M. Brown, new secretary of the county Y. M. C. A. Hamilton, retiring county secretary, leaves for Whittier on April 1, after twenty-eight months of work here.

It was with a great deal of pleasure that those who attended the annual banquet of the Y. M. C. A. last night noted that the new county secretary had the attributes that go to make up a good man for the job. He proved to be a good mixer, a likable fellow, a natural leader, and when he spoke it was with an earnestness and ease that brought him close to his hearers.

A splendid supper was served in the basement of the United Presbyterian Church by the ladies of that church. The room had been prettily decorated with greenery and roses. On the tables long branches of Gold of Ophir roses were used.

During the evening several much-appreciated numbers were rendered by the Y. M. C. A. quartet. W. A. Zimmerman, toastmaster, called upon Harry Lewis, a member of the county Y. M. C. A. executive committee, to tell of the county work.

Lewis said that he felt that the work had been more than successful and that a great deal of good had been accomplished, and that the money spent in the county Y. M. C. A. work had accomplished as much, or more good than money put into the church.

"The county Y. M. C. A. has been making Christians," said he. "We feel that our summer camps are the best thing we have. At those camps under experienced Christian leaders the boys become interested in living Christian lives, and on returning home they are looked after by the Y. M. C. A. secretary, who endeavors to keep them interested in living right."

Lewis said that the best results in the county work have been secured with boys from 14 to 16 years of age.

A. E. Bennett of Tustin, another executive committee member, reviewed some of the work, and said that soon subscriptions must be taken for the work for another year. He said that if the Christians understood how much actual good work had been done there would be no difficulty in getting the money.

Lecture Course

Toastmaster Zimmerman called on Harry Warner, president of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. Warner declared that he believes the Chamber of Commerce should take up boosting for a Y. M. C. A. building. He said that the entertainment course had been successful and that next year a far better course would be given. The Y. M. C. A. had demonstrated this season that it can make good, clean entertainment successful. Those who will buy tickets to the course next year should make that fact known at once.

The toastmaster stated that in the last year through R. R. Smith of the Y. M. C. A. employment bureau over 200 persons had been given employment.

The reports of Martin Warren, financial secretary, and Charles Tidball, treasurer, were received, showing that the entertainment course so far has netted about $30 over expenses. There are now 615 members of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A.

Praises Hamilton

Toastmaster Zimmerman read an original poem addressed to R. J. Hamilton, and followed it up with praise for the work of the secretary of the county Y. M. C. A. Zimmerman said Hamilton had shown himself to be a moral leader and an excellent worker. For the executive committee, Zimmerman presented a horseshoe pin set with pearls.

In responding, Hamilton expressed his appreciation of the gift. He reviewed the work accomplished by the Y. M. C. A. under his leadership during the last two and a half years. He said that he thought one of the best things done was the establishment of the Triangle League in the schools of the county through which 4800 signers to the anti-cigarette smoking pledge have been secured.

He said he favored outdoor and other recreational affairs, and believed a child that had plenty of recreation made a better Sunday school scholar than one who lacks recreation.

Hamilton said that his work at Whittier will be largely inter-denominational, a plan of work to keep boys together on Sundays as well as on other days of the week.

Brown Speaks
If first impressions go a long way, then County Secretary Brown has a good start in his work here. He is an athletically built young man, forceful in his manner and address.

He spoke enthusiastically in favor of the strong, vigorous sort of Christian boy who can rough and tumble with the fellows, yet maintain throughout his Christianity.

"The Y. M. C. A. stands for the things that draw us together," said he. "There are lots of problems to be solved in this world, and the thing for us to work out is how to apply the Sermon on the Mount."

"Has the Golden Rule a place in the business world? If it has, let us put it there. If it has no place there, let us give up one or the other, business or Christianity."

"Our work is ever forward toward a strong, masculine Christianity among our boys and young men."

After a number of short talks by others present, the election of officers for the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. for the following year was held, resulting as follows: President, John Hawley; vice-president, Harry Warner; secretary, Will Sebastian; financial secretary, Martin Warren; treasurer, Harry Hanson.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

PILED STUMPS IN SPLIT WOOD

Justice of Peace Cox Wants $2 Shovel Brought Into Court Also

Justice of the Peace Cox wants to get at all the facts in a case now before him, and that is the reason he has ordered L. R. Klatt of East Seventeenth street to bring a broken shovel into court. He is to try Santiago Serna on a charge of getting money on false pretenses, and he thinks that the method used by Serna was an attempt on Serna's part to get even with Klatt for charging Serna $2 for breaking a shovel.

Serna has been arrested, and is in jail. The complaint charges that he cut wood for Klatt by the cord, and that he piled uncut and unsplit stumps on the ground and corded out wood around them. Thus it is alleged that Serna defrauded Klatt.

Serna was paid $13. When he was brought into court by Constable Jackson this morning, Serna declared that Klatt was to blame for all of the trouble. Serna said that in grubbing out a tree he had used Klatt's shovel, and the shovel was broken. Klatt held out $2 for the shovel. Serna said the shovel was not worth nearly $2 when it was new, and it was not new.

Justice Cox set Serna's trial for next Tuesday, and when he issued subpoenas in the case he gave Constable Jackson instructions to have Klatt produce the broken implement in court.

TALBERT

RAN NAIL IN FOOT RESULTS SERIOUSLY

TALBERT, March 28.—Last Thursday Sam Clapp, who runs the pool-hall here, received a very painful, and what might have been a very serious, injury, when he stepped on a nail at his home. The nail went into the foot to the bone and after it struck the bone it went between the joints. Mr. Clapp was taken to the Santa Ana hospital for treatment. It was found that blood poisoning had set in. Clapp is back home now and is able to go on crutches.

The funeral services of Delbert Wardlaw were held at the local church last Monday. Rev. R. R. Raymond of Santa Ana conducted the service and a large crowd attended. The interment was at the Long Beach cemetery.

Notice to Our Customers!

ON APRIL 1ST, 1914, THREE IMPORTANT CHANGES IN OUR BUSINESS SYSTEM WILL GO INTO EFFECT, AS FOLLOWS: NO MORE SOLICITING—FREE DELIVERY RESTRICTED TO CERTAIN HOURS—A MORE STRICT CREDIT SYSTEM.

NO SOLICITORS—The custom of sending out men to take orders, has become one of the big items of expense in our business and in future no solicitors will be sent out.

FREE DELIVERY—Heretofore we have made deliveries large and small at all hours. In future our deliveries will leave the store at 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. All orders received before 10 a. m. will be delivered before noon, and all orders received after 10 a. m. will be held for the afternoon delivery, which leaves at 4 o'clock.

CREDIT—Hereafter all monthly accounts must be paid promptly on the first of each month. Five days grace will be given in which to make settlement, but after that no further extension of credit will be made.

The expense of soliciting, extra delivering and losses from bad accounts, which we expect to eliminate by this change of system, will be of benefit to our customers as well as ourselves, inasmuch as it will enable us to sell goods at lower prices.

The high quality of our goods will be maintained, but by these changes we can sell many lines at much lower prices.

CAMPBELL WINS DISPUTE OVER THE PUMP

Double Verdict Gives Plaintiff $1948.38 and Defendant $1066.66

THE ORANGE GROWER
CALLS IT A VICTORY

Action Brought on Jefferson
School Contract Three Years Ago Ends

After six hours of deliberation, the jury that heard the seven days' testimony in the case of Smith, Booth, Usher Company of Los Angeles against D. E. Campbell, an orange grower of Orange, brought in a verdict giving $1948.38 to the plaintiff and $1066.66 to the defendant. The result is considered a distinct victory for Campbell.

The action grew out of difficulties over a pumping plant installed on Campbell's ranch by the Smith, Booth, Usher Company. Campbell declared that the plant was defective and was installed in such a manner that the engine knocked continually. For these defects Campbell asked damages, and upon that score the jury awarded him $678.05. Campbell also alleged that the pump company

HEAVY MEAT EATERS HAVE SLOW KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat if You Feel
Backache or Have Bladder
Trouble

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Advertisement.

was responsible for an expense and loss incurred by the dropping of a cylinder and 140 feet of casing into the well. The pump company refused to remove the obstruction, and Campbell had to do it at his own expense. For that the jury gave Campbell $288.60.

For the pumping plant, the plaintiff was awarded $1948.38, the amount asked as pay for the plant under the contract. Campbell will have a difference of $881.72 to pay, after his counter-claim and cross-complaint judgment is reduced.

The question as to who pays the costs has not yet been adjusted. The jury fees alone reach $168. Several experts are to be paid.

Judge Thomas heard the case, which was of a good deal more than usual interest, especially among persons interested in pumping plants. Attorneys Hiatt & Selby of Los Angeles represented the plaintiff and C. C. Shoemaker and G. H. Woodruff of Los Angeles the defendant. It was first appearance before a jury here for Attorney Shoemaker, who was raised at Orange, and his work throughout the hard-fought case was excellent.

The case went to the jury at 5 o'clock, and it was 11 o'clock last night before the verdict was rendered.

Comes to End

As an example of how a case in court can drag along and never come to trial, an action that was dismissed by Judge West yesterday is notable. The Los Angeles Machinery & Electrical Co. was plaintiff and James O'Brien, contractor, of Santa Ana, defendant. O'Brien and his attorneys never believed that the plaintiff had a just case against O'Brien, yet the defendant had to be kept on the anxious seat for three years, until finally the case was dismissed for want of prosecution.

O'Brien was contractor for the Jefferson school, and the plaintiff subcontracted to install a heating plant, which was rejected by the school board and a new plant installed. The subcontractor sued the contractor, A. E. Koepsel represented O'Brien.

Registration
The total registration of Orange county, to March 28, is 14,291, as follows: Republicans, 5842; Progressive, 2333; Democrat, 3045; Prohibition, 1989; Socialist, 598; Declines, 1305; Independent, 67; Federation, 1.

For Administration
The Orange County Savings & Trust Co. has petitioned for letters of administration upon the estate of Albert F. Hallstrom, who died on August 16, 1913, leaving a lot worth $1000 in the South Side Addition, Santa Ana. E. E. Keech is attorney for the petitioner.

LILLIAN BELL, WRITER, IS GRANTED DIVORCE

DELAWARE, O., March 28.—Mrs. Lillian Bell Bogue, an authoress and magazine writer known in the literary world as Lillian Bell, was granted a divorce here yesterday from Arthur Hoyt Bogue of Chicago.

The court awarded Mrs. Bogue $500 alimony and the custody of her 11-year-old daughter. The decree was granted on the charge of gross neglect.
